

00:56:18 Dennis Doordan: The firm Optics in Berkeley CA has projects that demonstrate the viability of Missing Middle and traditional housing types. This is ammunition for public discussions of different types of density

00:57:58 James Buckley: Yes, there are several firms in Oregon and CA that are trying to show prototypes of good infill development in historic areas to meet the needs of more affordable housing - I agree we should push forward those efforts.

01:37:07 Judy Jacob: I have a comment. Judy
